salt room

It is a place of bioarchitecture, its conception has very ancient origins. It is a room coated with sea salt. Inside you will feel a sensation of wellbeing, due to the color and smell of the salt. The beneficial properties of this mineral, produce a pure microclimate, which is kept constant for temperature and humidity. The salt has the ability to ionize the air, are-balance the presence of positive and negative ions. Through a chemical process, the air becomes more healthy and it is scientifically proven that inhaling counter all forms of respiratory diseases and skin diseases as it is a natural antibacterial agent. A seat in the room has draining and decongestant effects, helping to reduce tensions and strengthen the immune system. Several scientific studies carried out in eastern Europe, have shown that the effect produced by these treatments, of the duration of about thirty minutes, carried out with in the room of the salt, brings the same benefits of days in the sea, which is why is a perfect remedy to the stresses of everyday life, and children and the elderly helps to solve the problems of respiratory giving a sure benefit to deal better with the winter. The room of the salt does not have specific contraindications.
